DANIELS CORRECTS MANN

G. O. P. Leader's Charges Baseless, Secretary Says.

Washington, Jan. 31.—In reply to the speech of Republican Leader Mann in the House Wednesday declar- ing Secretary Daniels should be im- peached for purchasing radio stations after authority had been refused by Congress, Mr. Daniels said today the Navy Department had not proceeded in any way toward the acquisition of high power commercial radio stations or the building of a naval plant since Congress failed to authorize these projects.

The Secretary said Representative Mann probably was confused by the fact that the department as a war measure bought low power stations doing a ship-to-shore business with radio extension funds provided by Congress, for which specific authority never was asked or refused. This pur- chase, the Secretary said, was ar- ranged before the signing of the arm- istice, although a dispute as to price delayed its consummation until some time in November.

As to the purchase of private sta- tions which communicate with foreign countries as proposed in the Govern- ment radio monopoly plan, which the House Naval Committee rejected, and the proposed erection of a great high power naval station at Monroe, N. C. Mr. Daniels said negotiations had been dropped. A Presidential order au- thorized the purchase of land at Mon- roe before the armistice, he added but he had ordered negotiations sus- pended when hostilities stopped until Congressional authority could be ob- tained.

ENGLISH PRESS STIRRED

Denounced Peace Conference's Plan For German Colonies and Sup- ports Dominions' Demands.

London, Jan. 31.—The discussions of the Paris Conference regarding the future of the former German colonies is being followed with in- tense interest here. In some sections of the press there is a strong feeling against the British delegation for what the Globe calls "Giving Away the Empire." A great majority of Englishmen, the newspaper says, strongly support Australia's claim to the islands of the Pacific and South Africa's for possession of Ger- man East Africa.

Indications that the claims of the dominions are not being supported by the British Government delegation have caused some alarm.

Paris, Jan. 31.—The British and French Government have accepted in principle President Wilson's plan concerning mandatories from the League of nations for the administra- tion of captured territory, it was sta- ted by Capt. Andre Tardieu, of the French Peace Conference delegation yesterday. The acceptance, however, is subject to learning under what conditions the plan will be carried out.

The meeting was largely attend- ed, among those present being many Sunday School teachers.

INGOMAR THEATRE

If you were a poor lawyer with little or no practice and harassed by creditors, would you accept $100,000 to marry a woman who is an utter stranger to you and who, by the way, is conspicuous by her plainness? Would you accept such a bride, even though the marriage was to be a merely perfunctory affair and you be divorced within twelve months.

These were the problems that con- fronted Frederick Tile, the hero of "Here Comes the Bride," the latest Paramount photoplay starring John Barrymore, the famous actor, which will seen tonight at the Ingomar.

He still insists that he is not guilty of the crime and had never spoken to Mrs. Brandon. It is generally believed that he is taking this course in the belief that he may secure a commutaion.

Monroe, La., Jan. 31.—Sampson Smith, a negro who was convicted of murder Wednesday at Columbia, was lynched late last night, it be- came known here yesterday. The jury's verdict specified that capital punishment should not be the penalty and the sheriff of Caldwell parish hearing of threats decided to bring the negro here for safe keeping. He had barely reached the outskirts of Columbia when he was overpowered by a mob and the negro taken away.

Keifer, who is said to have been rejected by Miss Clayborn, is alleged to have shot her twice, slashed her throat and, returning to his home, swallowed poison.

MISS HOOD DIES

Was Shot by a Maniac in Washing- ton Early Last Friday Morning

Miss Lillian Hood, 22 year old war worker, last of three women to be attacked on that day, by an unknown fiend, died at Emergency Hospital, Washington, from blood poisoning last evening.

Death was directly occasioned by peritonitis, caused by injuries to the abdomen from a bullet from the pis- tol of her assailant. She made an antemortem statement, in which she reiterated her former story and des- cription of the intruder.

"I am sure he was a white man," she told her mother and the district attorney.

The body will be taken to Browns- ville, Tenn., whence she came to an- swer the call for war workers last year. Miss Hood was employed in the war risk insurance bureau.

The two other women who were attacked on the night of the assaults are Miss Florence Fowler, 1511 L street northwest, and Miss Martha Geagan, 1312 Connecticut avenue northwest. Miss Fowler was choked, but the man was frightened away by the screams of other persons liv- ing in the house before any serious injury resulted. Miss Geagan was shot through the side, but the bullet caused only a flesh wound. She is also in Emergency Hospital. Her recovery is expected.

Baltimore, Jan. 31.—Mrs. Emma Slough, accompanied by her young daughter, was going home from a movie show last night when an in- sane man seized her, clapped his hand over her mouth and said: "I am going to murder you." The daugh- ter hurried to a nearby house and asked for help. Within a few min- utes a posse was organized and the chase began. The madman, who was dragging the woman along, relin- quished his hold and left her lying semiconscious on the roadway. Some of the pursuers fired several shots after the fleeing man, who escaped. Mrs. Slough says she has no doubt her assailant is a lunatic.

INDEMNITIES ABANDONED

Allies Will Ask Germany Only For Reparation.

London, Jan. 31.—The Peace Con- ference has settled one important point with regard to the indemnity question, the Paris correspondent of the Evening Standard says he has reasons for reporting. The conference, he declares, has eliminated any in- tention of calling upon Germany and her associates to pay the Allied coun- tries the cost of the war, or to impose heavy indemnities upon the enemy nations.

"But the minds of the conference," the correspondent adds, "are fixed that there shall be full and ample re- paration for unjustifiable damage done. A very sharp distinction is be- ing drawn between damage which re- sulted from legitimate warfare and damage which was wanton."

The correspondent says that Serbia and Belgium have formulated claims for reparation in detail. Serbia's bill is the largest, but as Belgium suf- fered first she will receive first con- sideration.

The idea that Germany should re- turn the indemnity she took from France in 1871 has been abandoned, the Evening Standard's correspondent continues. British claims, he adds, are for damage done in air raids and through the sinking of merchant ships. In the case of ships, reparation to Great Britain will be in kind.

DRAUGHTSMEN TO STRIKE

Declaring that the draftsmen of the government shipyards would strike within forty-eight hours unless their rights were recognized, Presi- dent De Krafft, of the Draftsmen's Union, yesterday headed a committee to place their demands before the Secretary of the Navy.

The government draftsmen declare that they have been forced to work in government yards at salaries great- ly below those paid by private con- cerns and that outside yards have been forbidden hiring former govern- ment men.

In November, 1918, Mr. De Krafft told the Secretary, Assistant Secre- tary Roosevelt ruled that the Macy award should be made effective in government yards and appointed the navy board to devise a plan by which it could be made applicable.

The committee demanded that the Secretary tell them whether or not the ban against government drafts- men leaving the service would be re- moved; whether the order forbidding outside shipyards hiring government men would be removed; if the Macy Award would be retroactive when it goes into effect and if the committee would be permitted to take with them a copy of the Navy Board's report.

Each request, Mr. De Krafft states, was denied by the Secretary despite the assurance given by the committee, that, in case of refusal, the draftsmen in the yards at Norfolk, New York, Portsmouth, Philadelphia, and Mare Island, in all probability would strike.

SHOT THROUGH LUNG

Forrest A. Carter Taken to the Hos- pital After Having Been Wounded Accidentally, It is Claimed, by His Brother.

A sad accident occurred last night at 308 Montgomery street, the resi- dence of Forrest A. Carter, when he was shot and dangerously wounded by his brother, Henry A. Carter. The lat- ter had visited his brother, and while at his home both engaged in a pistol drill, after having removed the car- tridges from the weapons. Henry Carter at length concluded to go to his home, 306 Montgomery street next door, and before leaving he re- placed the cartridges into his pistol. As he neared the door Forrest drop- ped his pistol, and stooped to pick it up. Henry, losing sight of the fact that he had returned the cartridges to his weapon, continued the drill by pulling his pistol from his pocket and snapping it. One barrel was exploded and the ball penetrated the side of his brother, lodging in the lung.

Henry, in a distressed state of mind, summoned the Alexandria Hospital ambulance and accompanied his brother to that institution, where he was attended by Doctor Klipstein. His wound is thought to be serious.

Officer Rawlett arrested Henry A. Carter about noon, and the case was investigated by the Police Court. The brother who was the cause of the ac- cident is employed at the Potomac Railroad Yards. He was recently dis- missed from the army. The family came to this city from Prince William county about a year ago. The wounded man is also employed at the yards.

From all that can be learned the shooting was accidental, and Henry Carter was released.

Mabes, a neighbor, were the vic- tims. The dog was trailed to a to- bacco barn and shot. The head was sent to the government laboratory in Washington for analysis.

EGGS, 60c; BUTTER, 50c.

Former Show Drop of 8 Cents And Latter 15 Cents in Day in Baltimore.

Baltimore, Jan. 31.—Egg prices are still on the toboggan. From quo- tations of 68 cents at the beginning of the month, a 60 cent level was reached yesterday, and it was predict- ed by commission merchants that the price will drop to 50c tomorrow. During the same time, best cream- ery butter has declined from 65 cents to 50 cents. No further drop is anticipated, however, as most dealers believe that this price repre- sents bottom market figures.

Although farmers and retail deal- ers are trying to get all they can for both commodities according to the commission men, the farmer has been compelled to lower his prices, and the retailers will have to follow suit within a day or two.

TRUCK KILLS TWO BOYS

ATTACKS UPON WOMEN

The death of Miss Lillian Hood in Washington yesterday afternoon from a pistol shot wound inflicted by an unknown fiend or madman a week ago, and the attack upon a woman and her daughter in Baltimore last night while the couple were on their way home from a moving picture show, have augmented anxiety among the weaker sex, not only in Washington and Baltimore, but among some in Alexandria. The report circulated in this city a day or two ago that the man the police of the capital city are endeavoring to identify was seen in this city has added considerably to the already existing apprehension.

Dispatches telling of heinous crimes in other cities are printed daily in the papers, and the James river mystery and that of the Palisades of the Hudson are read with interest.

A wave of crime at times sweeps over countries, and mysterious murders are reported which are never solved. The fiend who attacked women during the early hours of last Friday morning in Washington may never be identified.

Many years ago the foot of a woman was seen upon the surface of the Hudson river at New York, and the body of a young woman was brought to the surface. It was attired in but one garment. Brilliant rings upon the fingers showed that the deceased was a woman of means and there was every reason to suppose of refinement. The remains lay in the morgue several days, but no one came forward who could identify them, and they were finally buried. In the meantime the finding of the body was published in New York papers as well as in those of all that section of the country. No one was missing from any household, hotel or boarding house, and no light could be thrown upon the case. It could not be determined whether the woman committed suicide or that she was a victim of foul play. It is one of those mysteries which will not be revealed until that day when that which has been done in secret will be proclaimed upon the housetops.

PASSING OF JANUARY

The first month of the year 1919 will pass away at twelve o'clock tonight. With its exist the first half of winter will be among the things of the past. Of course severe weather often comes in February and March. It may be so this year.

But compared with conditions last year, the winter of 1918-1919, has, so far, been comparatively mild. While northwest winds, lowering the temperature considerably, have at times passed over this section, we have not been visited by what may be called blizzards, and the cold waves have not tarried long.

The month of January is ordinarily accompanied by more deaths than any other of the calendar. Grip generally prevails, and this malady often results in death to the old and infirm.

On an average about one death a day has occurred in Alexandria during the month about to pass away. The average under normal conditions is about one every other day. We refer, of course, to white adults.

At this time last year our city was confronted by the fuel problem. Coal was exceedingly scarce, and procuring fuel was a problem which caused anxiety to many. It will be remembered that long lines of people stood in the City Hall awaiting their turns to buy one load of coke.

It is not so now. Coal can be obtained, while work at remunerative wages is plentiful.

LET DOWN ANTHRACITE BARS.
All Restrictions on Price and Shipment Soon Off.

Washington, Jan. 31.—An order removing all restrictions including price and zone regulations an anthracite coal, has been prepared at the Fuel Administration and awaits Administrator Garfield's signature to make it effective. An official announcement is expected shortly.

The mild weather of this winter has eased the anthracite situation to the extent that officials believe the two-thirds supply which consumers were allowed to put in by December 1 will suffice in many cases for the entire coal year.
